DETAILED ACTION

Entry of Amendment

The amendment filed November 21, 2005 has been entered and made of record.

Previously Set Forth Rejections

The 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) rejection of claims 1-6 as being anticipated by Lewkowicz et al. (U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2003/0040685) is hereby withdrawn.

The following new grounds of rejection are set forth:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lewkowicz et al. (U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2003/0040685).

In regard to claims 1-6, Lewkowicz et al. teach a device 10 that is inserted into a body lumen 100 where the device may be shaped or sized to resemble a target diagnostic or therapeutic device, which itself is desired to be passed through the lumen 100, for example, a swallowable imaging device for purposes of imaging the GI tract (see Figure 1A and page 4, section 0050). The device 10 can be safely passed through the GI tract, to test the transferability of such as device through the GI tract while its progression can be monitored (see page 4, section 0050). Furthermore, a change in the size of a prior art device is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Rose, 220 F.2d 459, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955). Similarly, a change in the shape of a prior art device is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Dailey, 357 F.2d 669, 149 USPQ 47 (CCPA 1966). Accordingly, considering the disclosure in Lewkowicz, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the device 10 of Lewkowicz of a shape, size and weight that is the same as a capsule-type endoscope (see also section 0057, which discloses forming the device 10 in the shape similar to pharmaceutical pills or capsules, which is a shape and size similar to that of a capsule endoscope. According to one embodiment, the device 20 comprises an outer coating 24 and an internal filling 22 (see Figure 2A). The outer coating is typically a layer or plurality of layers of impermeable or slightly permeable material or combination of materials, that is essentially durable under in vivo conditions which, as broadly as claimed, can be at least one day (see page 4, section 0051 and section 0066). Section 0055 discloses using an outer coating 24 that dissolves. Lewkowicz et al. also teach another embodiment of the device 400 having an outer coating 404 and an internal filling 402 where the filling 402 may further comprise a marker 403, such as radio opaque material (see page 7, section 0076). In regard to claims 8 and 9, see sections 0068 and 0090.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments do not comply with 37 CFR 1.111(c) because they do not clearly point out the patentable novelty which he or she thinks the claims present in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited or the objections made. Further, they do not show how the amendments avoid such references or objections. Furthermore, applicant's arguments fail to comply with 37 CFR 1.111(b) because they amount to a general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
